The provision of data

The processing of personal data is to be considered mandatory, as it is necessary for remotely carrying out the exams, intermediate and final tests. Therefore, if the student does not authorize the processing of personal data, it will not be possible to carry out the examination and / or the assessment test.

Personal data processing

Personal data will be processed using manual, IT and telematic tools that are in any case suitable for guaranteeing the security and confidentiality of the data.

The processing of personal data will take place through the use of the platforms and/or application and/or support tools provided by the University to guarantee the performance of the exams, intermediate and final tests administered online, and therein mentioned below:

- CISCO WEBEX MEETING;
- Moodle.

Any other platforms and/or applications as well as support tools not included in the list will be activated only for the achievement of the institutional purposes indicated above.

Recipients of personal data and data transfer abroad/outside the EU

The data will be processed by the bodies and employees of the University, and by the external managers appointed for this purpose, exclusively for the aforementioned purposes.

The management and storage of personal data collected by the University takes place both on servers located within the University and on external servers of suppliers of platforms/applications/support tools for the management and organization of exams, intermediate and final tests administered online, and according to their privacy policy, contained in the links shown, to which reference is made in full, in particular for the data transfer profiles abroad/outside the EU see at the following link: https://www.cisco.com/c/it_it/about/legal/privacy-full.html.

Personal data storage period

The common and particular data collected during the exams, intermediate and final tests administered online (for example, IP addresses, video/audio recordings and/or photos of the person, the surrounding environment and the student card) will be stored for the period necessary to achieve the purposes, and subsequently to fulfill legal obligations, and for the defense and protection of the University's rights.

The contact data (phone, personal email) will be stored for the period necessary to achieve the purposes indicated for which the data were collected and mentioned in the main information. Subsequently, they will no longer be used by the University.

The personal data, the assessments of the exams, the intermediate tests and the final tests will be stored for life in order to comply with the certification requests of individuals and verification requests, in compliance with the filing obligations imposed by current legislation.

How to exercise personal data rights

The interested parties can exercise the rights on the data provided by the articles 16-21 of the European Regulation n. 679/2016. These rights may be asserted against the University by sending a specific request addressed to the Director of the Teaching and Services Department for students using the following subject line: "online teaching privacy rights" by e-mail to istanza.didattica@unito.it.

Interested parties can file a complaint, under the circumstances, against the Data Protection Authority, as control authority operating in the Italian system: www.garanteprivacy.it.

Different purpose of the processing

The data are not processed for purposes other than those indicated without prior information on the new processing being provided.

Profiling

The Owner does not use automated processing aimed at profiling.
