

Company name: AgriNewTech

Foundation year: 12/2009

Sector: biotechnologies applied to agriculture and environment.

Business:

The company business is related to sustainable crop protection and to the valorization of organic wastes and by-products, compost and horticultural substrates for their optimal use in agriculture, providing also technical support in biological control of plant diseases and in technology transfer in sustainable agriculture. Its experience and specific know-how are strongly connected to composting, organic wastes, reuse of by-products, development of biofertilizers, valorization of compost, assessment of compost quality, use of compost suppressiveness capacity to control plant diseases. AgriNewTech (ANT) has been developed with the aim of transferring the results of years of scientific researches carried out at international level by the charter members.

ANT started several collaborations and technology transfer activities, also within international projects, in foreign countries like Hungary, Morocco and Saudi Arabia. AgriNewTech is member of the Sustainable Chemistry Innovation Pole IBIS and of the Agro-Food Innovation Pole launched by Piedmont Region in 2009.

The services offered by AgriNewTech have been selected by the Italian Agency for the Diffusion of Technology as an example of Italian innovative and advanced excellence.

Finally, ANT produce and sell growing media and organic fertilizers for professional users and hobby gardeners.

Services and Products:

Assessment of compost and growing media quality according to their specific uses, valorization of compost, organic wastes and by-products for their optimal use in agriculture, enrichment of compost and substrates with microorganisms. Production and sell of innovative products for sustainable crop protection and plant growth promotion.

Applications:

Sustainable crop protection, sustainable agriculture, recycling of organic wastes and by-products.

Market:

Farms, composting plants, agro-food industries, fertilizers and pesticides companies...

Contacts:

Massimo Pugliese and Maria Lodovica Gullino
Via G. Quarello 15/A, 10135 Torino, presso 2i3T

tel: +39 011 6706344 fax: +39 011 6706351

email: info@agrnewtech.com

website: www.agrnewtech.com