

Angles on Age: A Sociological Perspective

Interviene:

Anne Barrett

(Florida State University e Pepper Institute on Aging and Public Policy)

Discutono:

Manuela Naldini (Università di Torino)

Paola Maria Torrioni (Università di Torino)

How can sociological research widen the lens on age and aging and deepen the investigations of them? Reflecting on two decades in the field, Anne Barrett will propose a framework to guide future aging research. The presentation provides an overview of her research on four social dimensions of age – as an inequality, institution, performance, and identity. It concludes with an introduction to her current project on older Italians' caregiving networks.

Venerdì 1 febbraio 2019

Ore 11.00, Aula 3D233

Campus Luigi Einaudi

Lungo Dora Siena 100, Torino

Iniziativa promossa nell'ambito delle attività dell'Osservatorio su Mutamento Sociale e Innovazione Culturale (MU.S.I.C.)