By car

Six different motorways connect Torino to other major Italian and European cities. The main entrances to the motorway are placed directly north, south, east, and west of the city.

By plane

Torino has its own international airport, known both as Turin Caselle or Turin Sandro Pertini (TRN), located 16 kilometres northwest of the city centre. From Caselle Airport a shuttle bus will take you to the Porta Nuova or Porta Susa railway stations in about 45 minutes. Then follow the directions from Porta Nuova or Porta Susa.
