

ID

VP019_STO

Visiting Professor Program Academic Year 2024/2025

TEACHING COMMITMENT: 12 hours

COURSE TITLE

Economic and Social History of Environment

TEACHING PERIOD

1st term

SCIENTIFIC AREA

Contemporary History

LANGUAGE USED TO TEACH

Italian

COURSE SUMMARY

The course aims to provide students with the analytical tools to understand the main issues of environmental history with particular reference to the modern period, from the industrial revolution to the current debate on the ecological crisis.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Students must demonstrate their knowledge of the topics that will be developed in the course program.

At the end of the course:

(Knowledge and Understanding) students must demonstrate their knowledge of the topics that will be developed in the course program. They must also demonstrate that they understand the main interpretations proposed during the lessons.

(Applying Knowledge and Understanding) students must be able to read and understand the different types of sources provided as supplementary teaching materials.

(Judgment Autonomy) students must be able to understand and present historical judgments with autonomy and maturity, from the acquired knowledge and skills.

(Communicative Skills) students must be able to narrate and explain historical events in a concise manner, through clear and effective language, using scientific terminology.

(Learning Skills) moreover, students must know the most recent and updated bibliography.

VISITING PROFESSOR PROFILE

The visiting professor should be an expert in the environmental history of the modern age, specifically focusing on the 19th and 20th centuries. Additionally, the candidate should possess a distinct expertise in the history of the Alps.

CONTACT REFERENT

Giacomo Bonan

giacomo.bonan@unito.it