

Visiting Professor Program Academic Year 2023/2024

TEACHING COMMITMENT: 15 hours

COURSE TITLE

Teaching Methods and Health Education

TEACHING PERIOD

1st term

SCIENTIFIC AREA

Nursing Science

LANGUAGE USED TO TEACH

Italian

COURSE SUMMARY

The course aims to provide theoretical models and methods for designing and implementing health promotion and education interventions in different territorial settings, targeting individuals and groups. The purpose of teaching is also to delve into psychodynamic aspects in group relations and to recognize and value the different family educational models and cultural learning styles of people living in the community.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The course aims to:

- develop the capacity of design health education/promotion interventions aimed at individuals/families/communities;
- define general and specific training objectives, contents, and teaching methodologies/strategies/tools;

- define outcome indicators;
- identify strategies to promote individual and group changes aimed at developing empowerment, autonomy and responsibility with respect to health;
- identify the most appropriate survey techniques to detect the training/educational needs of a target population at risk or a target territory.

TUTORSHIP ACTIVITIES

N/A

LAB ACTIVITIES

N/A

OTHER ACTIVITIES BESIDES THE COURSE

Seminars and conferences on community care

VISITING PROFESSOR PROFILE

The visiting professor should be experienced in Nursing Sciences and University education and hold the position of Professor of Nursing. A special focus on transcultural research is required, with the employment of quantitative and qualitative methods. Experience in innovative approaches to teaching and learning is appreciated, especially in mentoring students in research but also skills in knowledge translation workshops involving undergraduate and graduate students, faculty, and instructors. A curriculum in advanced nursing practice and community health care is particularly appreciated.

FURTHER INFORMATION

Lessons and seminars could be held in co-presence with UNITO Professors.

CONTACT REFERENT

Valerio Dimonte
valerio.dimonte@unito.it