COURSE TITLE

Sustainable Finance

TEACHING PERIOD

2nd term

SCIENTIFIC AREA

Finance

LANGUAGE USED TO TEACH

English

COURSE SUMMARY

The sustainable finance lab provides insights into how ESG (environmental, social, governance) factors are incorporated by financial markets. A specific focus is on climate risk, whose mitigation is central to the EU policies.

The lab will introduce students to current trends in sustainable finance markets and will describe their functioning, stakeholders and governing regulations. Interactive classes will be devoted to the discussion of the most recent research on the topic.

An overview of datasets and statistical tools most commonly used in research on sustainable finance will also be provided.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The students attending the lab will learn the foundations of sustainable finance, both in terms of the main issues at stake and the quantitative tools used in the research field.
