COURSE TITLE

International and European Sales of Goods

TEACHING PERIOD

2nd term

SCIENTIFIC AREA

comparative private law

LANGUAGE USED TO TEACH

English

COURSE SUMMARY

This course covers aspects of the law of international contracts and in particular the sources that govern international sales. The course will be dedicated to the existing conventional instruments. They will be examined on a comparative basis considering the various domestic law. The course shall focus on the case law issued in various jurisdictions concerning the application of the CISG.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

This course aims to train students to research the sources that govern international sales. Students will be asked to reflect on the actual scope of existing conventional instruments. Students will be asked to compare their own domestic law with supranational sources. Students will be expected to become familiar with case law issued in other states in application of the CISG.
