

UNIVERSITÀ DEGLI STUDI DI TORINO

ID

VP42_DIP_MAN

Visiting Professor Program Academic year 2022/2023

TEACHING COMMITMENT: 20 hours

COURSE TITLE

Microeconomics

TEACHING PERIOD

2nd term

SCIENTIFIC AREA

Microeconomics

LANGUAGE USED TO TEACH

English

COURSE SUMMARY

Preliminaris, basic concept.

Demand and supply.

Consumer behaviour.

- Individual and market demand

- Production

- Costs

- Profit maximisation

- Competitive markets

- Monopoly and monopsony

- Pricing with market power

- Oligopoly

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The course aims at introducing the logic of rational behaviour of consumers and firms, which is useful to recognize and understand relationships among economic agents.

Consumer decisions and firm choices are presented and discussed aiming at the understanding of a free market based system, particularly price formation and efficiency. The easiest models of oligopoly and monopolistic competition are presented as an introduction to more realistic tools for the knowledge of the real world of enterprises.

TUTORSHIP ACTIVITIES

TA classes will be provided

LAB ACTIVITIES

N/A

OTHER ACTIVITIES BESIDES THE COURSE

Phd seminars

VISITING PROFESSOR PROFILE

Excellent teaching and publication record in English

CONTACT PERSON AT THE DEPARTMENT

Prof.ssa Nadia Campaniello
nadia.campaniello@unito.it