DEPARTMENT OF HISTORICAL STUDIES

TEACHING COMMITMENT: 12 hours

COURSE TITLE

The Greek History and Epigraphy of Cyprus.

TEACHING PERIOD

1st term

SCIENTIFIC AREA

Greek History

LANGUAGE USED TO TEACH

Italian

COURSE SUMMARY

The history of Cyprus will be investigated starting from epigraphic documents. The course will try to identify the specific characters of a Greek community in a geographical and historical context that was always multilingual and open to contacts with Asia Minor.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Students will learn the long diachronic history of an island through a practical approach to epigraphic documents. They will be exercised in reading texts from photographs and above all from paper squeezes.

TUTORSHIP ACTIVITIES (IF APPLICABLE)

LAB ACTIVITIES (IF APPLICABLE)

OTHER ACTIVITIES (IF APPLICABLE)

The Visiting Professor will be available to hold an advanced level conference for PhD students.

VISITING PROFESSOR PROFILE DESCRIPTION

The Visiting Professor must possess specific skills related to Greek Epigraphy and must be able to insert the ancient sources in their own historical context. Therefore good epigraphical and historical skills are required. The Visiting Professor must also have already achieved a good practical experience in autopsic study on inscribed stones and have a satisfactory practice in epigraphic editions.
