Visiting Professor Program Academic year 2022/2023

TEACHING COMMITMENT: 36 hours

COURSE TITLE

Philosophy in the Ancient World

TEACHING PERIOD

2nd term

SCIENTIFIC AREA

History of Ancient Philosophy

LANGUAGE USED TO TEACH

English

COURSE SUMMARY

The course will focus on one of the major texts of ancient philosophy and will have the format of a workshop. In this way, the course will shed light on key issues raised by one or more ancient philosophers, especially in fields which are still particularly important in philosophical research.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The course will strengthen the students' ability to analyse and discuss ancient philosophical texts. The course will ensure high-level training on the scholarly analysis of the argumentative styles which are proper to ancient philosophical texts. The course will stimulate the development of individual research skills, especially by stimulating the production of an autonomous interpretation of a text.

OTHER ACTIVITIES BESIDES THE COURSE

The course will be associated to the ancient philosophy reading group, which Filosofia Antica a Torino already holds.

VISITING PROFESSOR PROFILE

The Visiting Professor will be required to have an outstanding publication score, especially as to the collocation of published papers and their impact: publications in top tier journals in the field of ancient philosophy will be especially considered.

The Visiting Professor will have wide experience in the workshop teaching format.

The Visiting Professor will have extensive and deep knowledge (mirrored in their publications) of at least one of the major ancient philosophers or ancient philosophical schools (especially Plato, Aristotle, the Stoics, Plotinus).
